

It was the time when America was being tested again and again was about to cast into a great world war. They witnessed husbands, sons, brothers, and a few daughters leave for war and they were there to welcome them home. As a family, we cried and prayed with the families who lost loved ones to that terrible war and we celebrated with the ones who came home heroes. We helped them to put their lives back together again and America was whole again.

They skimped and saved and worked. Mom never had much but was never denied. She made a very happy home. Christmas was an orange, home made toy, and home made clothes. All holidays meant good cooking with a special little twist for her family and relation in times of unbelievable stress and uncertainty.

Memories will always remain of the wonderful smells and aromas emanating from mother's kitchen. It was there she cooked for harvest and hay hands over an old wood range during the hot humid days of summer. Those same smells were even better after chores on a cold winter day.

The badge of authority to the woman of the prairies and a true symbol of womanhood was the apron. It was worn everyday. It was made of anything from feed sacks to the finest cotton. There were those for everyday and those for Sunday or welcoming unexpected callers. Company was always welcome if at meal time, never left unfed.

Mom could gather the eggs, pick the garden, move baby chicks and kittens. The apron was used to haze milk cows to the barn, run wandering livestock out of her garden—along with some colorful language—wipe the tears from a crying child, dust from a husband's eye, and sweat from a working brow.

It was spotted and stained from ripe strawberries, black berries, an overly excited pup, and grease from a spark plug out of the old wash machine. It had the smells of newly picked sweet corn, fresh baked bread, lye soap, and once in a while, the light scent of perfume.

She was the center of our home and was a part of a generation that understood love, life, and death. She understood the value of honesty and openness, a healthy fear and love of God, and the core values of the American Midwest.

She was the daughter of this land. The soil that she loved and sustained her has now received her back. We are the benefactors of her qualities and teachings. We, as a nation, are what we are because of her and the millions of women like her of the American prairies. She was one of the silent builders of the United States of America.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. COCHRAN. I add to that unanimous consent request, at the suggestion of the distinguished Senator from Kentucky, to ask unanimous-consent they be granted floor privileges during the votes, if any, that may occur in relation to S. 1033.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. COCHRAN. Mr. President, I am pleased to present for the Senate's consideration today S. 1033, the fiscal year 1998 Agriculture, rural development, Food and Drug Administration, and related agencies appropriations bill. This bill provides fiscal year 1998 funding for all programs and activities of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with the exception of the Forest Service, the Food and Drug Administration, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and expenses and payments of the farm credit system.

As reported, the bill recommends total new budget authority for fiscal year 1998 of $50.7 billion. This is $3.2

billion less than the fiscal year 1997 enacted level, and $1.6 billion less than the President's fiscal year 1998 budget request.

Reductions in mandatory funding requirements account for the overall decrease below the fiscal year 1997 enacted level, principally reflecting lower Food Stamp and Child Nutrition Program costs due to the enactment of welfare reform. Even with these reductions, $38 billion, or approximately 75 percent of the total $50.7 billion recommended by this bill, will go to funding the Nation's domestic food assistance programs in fiscal year 1998. These include the Food Stamp Program; the national school lunch and elderly feeding programs; and the special supplemental nutrition program for women, infants, and children [WIC].

Including congressional budget scorekeeping adjustments and prior-year spending actions, this bill recommends total discretionary spending of $13.791 billion in budget authority and $14.039 billion in outlays for fiscal year 1998. These amounts are consistent with the subcommittee's discretionary spending allocations.

The committee continues to place priority on increasing food safety to ensure that American consumers continue to have the safest food in the world.

The bill provides $591 million for the Food Safety and Inspection Service, $17 million above the fiscal year 1997 level. This will enable the Food Safety and Inspection Service to maintain the current inspection system and to provide the needed investments required to implement the new hazard analysis and critical control point [HACCP] meat and poultry inspection system.

In addition, the bill provides the increased funds requested as part of the President's $43 million government-wide food safety initiative. This include the full $1.1 million proposed for the Food Safety and Inspection Service, the $4 million increase proposed for Agricultural Research Service food safety research, and $24 million in addition funds for food safety initiatives of the Food and Drug Administration.

For agriculture research, the bill provides total appropriations of $1.6 billion, approximately $37 million below the fiscal year 1997 level. Included in this amount is a reduction of $62 million, reflecting termination of funding for buildings and facilities of the Corporate State Research, Education, and Extension Service; and a $27 million total increase for agriculture research and education activities.

The total amount provided for the Agricultural Research Service continues funding for most of the agency's current research activities, and approves nearly $24 million of the increased funding requested to meet priority research needs, including research focusing on human nutrition, food safety, emerging diseases, and genetics resources.
